1. Select the “Create a new Plan” button.

2. Name the plan

3. Select the term to begin the plan (cannot be current term)

4. Enter the year to begin the plan

5. Defaults to the number “4” for the years to graduate

6. Next, click on the “Add Plan” button
Instructions are available at the top of the plan.

On the left hand side is the DPR and on the right hand side is the plan. It is recommended to click on “Expand All” on the DPR side and the plan side to expand the view for both.
Click, drag and drop one required course at a time from the DPR to the semester on the plan side. Hover over the term until it is highlighted in “blue” and drop the course in this term.
Once a course is planned, right click on the course to see course details.
After planning the courses, use the “check plan” button to validate the planned courses against the DPR. The planned courses will show on the DPR side as “PL” which means, planned course.
To add a term to a plan, click the “plus” sign on the plan side.

1. A pop up message will appear. Select the term and year to add and click “Ok”. The term will be added to the plan.
To manually enter a course, click on the “plus sign” within the term. A pop-up box will come up.

Type in the course name and number and click “OK”. The course will be added to your plan.
To add a comment to the plan, click on the comment button. The comment box will open to the left of your plan. This comment area is for general comments and is not intended to replace comments in GradesFirst.

For example, if the student is planning on taking the upper division writing exam, you can type this information in the comments box. Click save to save the comment. Then click on the comments button again to go back to the plan and the DPR.
